PUBLISHING WITH A PURPOSE

Social & Public Policy

Spring/Summer 2023

Welcome

As the leading publisher in Social Policy with strong links to the Social Policy Association, we are proud to have changed the landscape of publishing in social and public policy over the past 20 years. We have led the way on conversations around inequality and social injustice with authors like Peter Townsend, Ruth Patrick, Kayleigh Garthwaite, Ruth Lister, Danny Dorling, Pete Alcock, John Hills and Bob Jessop – and published some of the most important cutting-edge research in this field.

We are actively looking to publish broad research that fills a clear gap in the current literature, pushing forward knowledge. We are especially looking for international and comparative works for our book series Research in Comparative and Global Social Policy. If you are interested in writing for us, please contact me at laura.vickers@bristol.ac.uk.

International Library of Policy Analysis

Series Editors: Iris Geva-May, Emerita Professor, Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada and Honorary Research Professor, SPPA, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada and Michael Howlett, Burnaby Mountain Professor and Canada Research Chair (Tier 1), Simon Fraser University, Canada

Experts examine policy analysis systems in a range of countries. Each volume includes the evolution of the country's policy analysis and provides data and empirical case studies for instruction and further research. There are currently 17 books in the series with more forthcoming. For more information, see: policy.bristoluniversitypress.co.uk/international-library-of-policy-analysis

Policy Analysis in South Korea

Edited by T. J. Lah, Yonsei University and Thomas R. Klassen, York University, Canada

"A milestone achievement, expounding and providing crucial timely insights on the role and evolution of policy in South Korea."

MASA HIGO, KYUSHU UNIVERSITY

Bringing together outstanding researchers, this book is the first to examine the theory and practice of policy analysis in South Korea.

Drawing on case studies, it explores the development of policy analysis and procedures for decision making at different levels of government

Philanthropic Response to Disasters

Gifts, Givers and Consequences

Alexandra Williamson, Queensland University of Technology, Diana Leat, ArtSquat and the Blgrave Trust and Susan Phillips, Carleton University

When disaster strikes, our instinctive response is to make things better, not only as individuals but also as groups, organisations, communities and major institutions within society.

This book is a step toward curating our existing knowledge in the emerging field of 'disaster philanthropy'. It aims to build a robust base for future research, practice and public policy, whilst recognising that philanthropic responses to disasters are complex, conditional and subject to change.

Policy-Making as Designing

The Added Value of Design Thinking for Public Administration and Public Policy

Edited by Arwin van Buuren, Erasmus University, Jenny M. Lewis, University of Melbourne and B. Guy Peters, University of Pittsburgh

First published as a special issue of Policy & Politics, this book presents original critical reflections on the value of design approaches and how they relate to the classical idea of public administration as a design science. Contributors consider the potential, challenges and applications of design approaches and distinguish between three methods currently characterising the discipline: design as optimisation, design as exploration and design as co-creation.

Welfare That Works for Women?

Mothers' Experiences of the Conditionality within Universal Credit

Kate Andersen, University of York

For generations women have experienced disadvantage in the paid labour market, the devaluation of their unpaid caring roles and multiple constraints on their agency.

This book analyses fresh empirical evidence which demonstrates the gendered impacts of the new conditionality regime within Universal Credit.

Drawing on in-depth interviews with mothers, it offers a compelling narrative and policy recommendations to make the social citizenship framework in the UK more inclusive of women.

The impact of taxation as an instrument of social policy is central in influencing redistribution and behaviour. This collection fills a significant gap in tax and social policy literatures, bringing together disparate debates in this emerging area of analysis.

It explores key interaction, debates and challenges and examines how analyses might be combined and policy options developed for effective delivery in both areas.

The Marketisation of Welfare-To-Work in Ireland

Governing Activation at the Street-Level

Michael McGann, University of Melbourne

EPDF and EPUB available Open Access under CC-BY-NC-ND licence.

Who's Afraid of Political Education?

The Challenge to Teach Civic Competence and Democratic Participation

Edited by Henry Tam, University of Cambridge

"A timely intervention into urgent debates, this book is essential reading for all those who see education as key to defending and deepening democracy."

HOWARD STEVENSON, UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM

Bringing together leading experts on learning for democracy, this book explores why and how the gap in civic competence should be bridged. Drawing on research findings and international case examples, it will set out why change is necessary, what could be taught differently to ensure effective political engagement, and how a lasting impact in improving citizens' learning for democratic participation can be made.

Care, Crisis and Activism

The Politics of Everyday Life

Eleanor Jupp, University of Kent

"This analysis will inspire and inform research on gender, welfare and austerity."

JULIE MACLEAVY, UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL

Casting light on austerity and neoliberal welfare reform in the UK, this book considers local action and activism within contexts of crisis, including the COVID-19 pandemic. Presenting case studies of often unseen local action, it shows how the creativity and persistence of local practices enact wider visions of how care should be provided by society.

Towards a New Civic Bureaucracy

Lessons from Sustainable Development for the Crisis of Governance

Matthew J. Quinn, Cardiff University

"Offers hope in civic dialogue as a pathway to deep changes needed to live well with the earth, to transform government and to create a legal framework for a 'liberated public bureaucracy'."

HARRIET FRIEDMANN, UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO AND TORONTO FOOD POLICY COUNCIL

This book plots a landmark reimagination of governance and public administration, underpinned by sustainable development and civic republicanism. Using international examples and the author's experience in sustainability governance as a senior UK official, it proposes a new civic bureaucracy which fosters societal engagement and dialogue.

Hunger, Whiteness and Religion in Neoliberal Britain

An Inequality of Power

Maddy Power, University of York

"This study demonstrates how we are now living again with the sensibilities and outcomes of 1920s and 1930s inequality."

DANNY DORLING, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Exploring why food aid exists and the deeper causes of food poverty, this book argues that the food aid industry is infused with neoliberal governmentality and shows how food charity maintains inequalities of class, race, religion and gender. It documents lived experiences to show how food sharing fosters solidarity and alternative modes of food redistribution among communities.

Global Social Challenges Journal

NON-PROFIT, OPEN ACCESS
PUBLISHING FOR CHANGE

NOW ONLINE

Bristol University Press is delighted to announce our new fully Open Access journal.

"I'm proud to see Bristol University Press launching this important new journal, which promises to address the most urgent complexities of global social challenges by drawing together accessible international scholarship across the disciplines to inform policy and practice."

PROFESSOR JUDITH SQUIRES, DEPUTY VICE-CHANCELLOR AND PROVOST, UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL

How can we reimagine society in an era of climate change, pandemic, hunger, poverty, questions of racial, ethnic and gender justice and other pressing global societal challenges? Significant threats and dangers lie ahead of us, but so do opportunities, as new ways of being, thinking and doing emerge. This new, fully Open Access journal aims to facilitate thinking about these positive new trajectories and to become the journal of choice to address the complexities of global social challenges across disciplines and fields.

It is the first such journal to be based in the social sciences while also engaging with research from humanities, arts and STEM. Including marginalised, minority and indigenous world views, the journal will be an important home for research that contributes to the creation of alternative futures that acknowledge past injustices and are socially and environmentally just and sustaining.

Research, Policy, Practice

Volume 31 | 2023 | 3 issues

Impact Factor: 0.884

Co-Editors: Joanna Mack, The Open University, UK
and Marco Pomati, Cardiff University, UK

"The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice is clearly one of the best in the field, as I learned in preparing for my visit to the UK as UN Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights."

PHILIP ALSTON, FORMER UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON EXTREME POVERTY AND HUMAN RIGHTS, NYU LAW SCHOOL, USA

The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice provides an internationally unique forum for leading research on the themes of poverty and social justice.

Focusing on poverty and social exclusion, the journal explores links with social security (including pensions and tax credits), employment, area regeneration, housing, health, education and criminal justice, ethnicity, gender, disability and other social inequalities as they relate to social justice.

The journal encompasses an original and exciting mix of scholarly research articles and lively policy and practice-oriented discussions of topical questions.

Interdisciplinary and international in scope, the journal is essential reading for academics, students, policy makers and practitioners interested in poverty, social security, welfare and justice.

The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice welcomes submissions from those working in these areas across the globe. All research articles are peer-reviewed.

"Evidence-based policy is the watchword today in many countries and with many international organizations. This journal is the place to explore its many meanings, how it is operationalized and how it works. A journal worth reading!"

PROFESSOR TOM COOK, NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, USA

Evidence & Policy is the first peer-reviewed journal dedicated to comprehensive and critical assessment of the relationship between researchers and the evidence they produce and the concerns of policy makers and practitioners.

International in scope and interdisciplinary in focus, it addresses the needs of those who develop public policies, deliver public services or provide the research base for evaluation and development across a wide range of social and public policy issues (e.g. criminal justice, employment and welfare, education, environmental protection, finance, health, housing, international development, social care and transport), and those who are working to connect the two (such as knowledge brokers).

As well as more traditional research articles, the journal includes review and method articles, contemporary debate pieces and articles from practice.

Policy & Politics

Advancing knowledge in public and social policy

Volume 51 | 2023 | 4 issues

Impact Factor: 3.297

Editors: Oscar Berglund, University of Bristol, UK,
Claire A. Dunlop, University of Exeter, UK,
Elizabeth A. Koebele, University of Nevada Reno,
USA and Chris Weible, University of Colorado, USA

"Brings into focus two subjects that should be studied together. It provides a platform for informed, reflective and rigorously evidenced research and does so in a way that addresses issues that matter."

GERRY STOKER, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHAMPTON, UK AND UNIVERSITY OF CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA

Policy & Politics is a world-leading journal that provides the primary outlet for scholars and reflexive practitioners to engage with the most pressing governance challenges inhibiting the continued advancement in the study of public policy and its practice. These challenges span the globe and link communities in a common struggle to realise and sustain human dignity and quality of life for all.

Policy & Politics serves scholars seeking an outlet that accepts these challenges and strives to overcome them. Three principles guide the journal:

(1) comprehensive coverage of public policy, politics and social issues;
(2) inclusivity in research approaches; and (3) relevance for science and practice.

Lifecourse Studies (SLLS)

"Longitudinal and Life Course Studies provides a much-needed outlet for high-quality interdisciplinary research on the life course. No other journal offers life course researchers as wide a range of disciplines, topics, and methods."

MARY CLARE LENNON, CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, USA

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the needs of researchers studying the life course and using longitudinal methods at the interfaces of social, developmental and health sciences. It fosters cross-disciplinary and international endeavours and promotes the creation and exploitation of longitudinal data resources as well as their application to policy issues. As the journal of the Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (SLLS), it provides an opportunity for scholars at all stages of their careers to publish work crossing disciplinary boundaries which is often beyond the scope of more conventional, single-field journals.

Families, Relationships and Societies

An international journal of research and debate

Impact Factor: 0.981

Volume 12 | 2023 | 4 issues

Editor in Chief: Esther Dermott, University of Bristol, UK

Co-Editors: Isabella Crespi, The University of Macerata, Italy, Manik Deepak-Gopinath, The Open University, UK, Sara Eldén, Lund University, Sweden and Elena Moore, University of Cape Town, South Africa

Editor at Large: Lynn Jamieson, University of Edinburgh, UK

"This timely journal will provide an essential locus for work on contemporary family relationships. At last there is the space to create a critical mass of work in this important field."

CAROL SMART, UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER, UK

Families, Relationships and Societies is a vibrant social science journal advancing scholarship and debates in the field of families and relationships. It explores family life, relationships and generational issues across the life course.

Bringing together a range of social science perspectives, with a strong policy and practice focus, it is also strongly informed by sociological theory and the latest methodological approaches. The title encompasses the fluidity, complexity and diversity of contemporary social and personal relationships and their need to be understood in the context of different societies and cultures.

SCOPUS CITESCORE 1.4

Co-Editors: Daiga Kamerāde, University of Salford, UK, James Rees, University of Wolverhampton, UK and Lili Wang, Arizona State University, USA

Consulting Editor: Carl Milofsky, Bucknell University, USA

"Voluntary Sector Review publishes outstanding research for academic, policy, and practice audiences. I especially appreciate VSR's efforts to publish work from a variety of research paradigms and perspectives."

ANGELA M. EIKENBERRY, UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA AT OMAHA, USA

Published in association with the Voluntary Sector Studies Network (VSSN)

Voluntary Sector Review publishes accessible, high-quality peer-reviewed papers on all aspects of the voluntary, community, civil society and third sectors. A unique feature of the Voluntary Sector Review is the combination of papers aimed at academic, policy and practice audiences. This is designed to ensure that the results of the latest academic research are made available to the widest possible audience and are grounded in a close engagement with both policy and practical issues.

The Voluntary Sector Review is an explicitly interdisciplinary and international journal – the first to be European based. We welcome contributions from authors from all disciplines and all countries. We are interested in all aspects of voluntary, community, civil society and third-sector activity.
