Journals

Our journals portfolio continues to develop rapidly, and we have much to be proud of. This year we launched four brand-new journals, bringing the list to 20 titles.

In 2022 we also launched Bristol University Press Digital: bristoluniversitypressdigital.com – the new home for all our journals where they are integrated with book content for easy discoverability. With a user-friendly interface, personalisation and collaboration tools, the platform provides users with a unique search option that surfaces content addressing the global social challenges aligned with United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

We also launched our first fully Open Access title, Global Social Challenges Journal. This not-for-profit and mission-driven journal is of central importance to our aims as a Press.

We are also delighted that our journals Emotions and Society, the European Journal of Politics and Gender, Global Discourse, the Journal of Psychosocial Studies, and the Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice have all been accepted into the Emerging Sources Citation Index and will start to get Impact Factors from 2023.

Additionally, in just its fifth year of publication, the European Journal of Politics and Gender achieved a Scopus CiteScore of 3.9 and now ranks in the 91st percentile of Political Science and International Relations journals in Scopus.

In the 2022 Impact Factor release, Evidence & Policy substantially increased its two-year Impact Factor to 2.595 and is now in the second quartile of Social Sciences Interdisciplinary journals. Policy & Politics continues to rank in the top quartile of Political Science journals in the Social Science Citation Index, and all other journals increased their Impact Factors.

Our new Read and Publish Agreements were launched with JISC for 22/23 and have been hugely successful so far. The offer is excellent value for money: find out more on page 27. We will be rolling out this initiative more widely in 2023.

Publish with us

Journals are at the heart of academic publishing and we are proud to support the international social sciences community with our range of prestigious, critical and engaging titles.

As a not-for-profit publisher, we share many of the same values as the organisations and individuals we work with and we pride ourselves on our collaborative ethos and commitment to quality.

Our journals respond to some of the most pressing global social challenges that our societies face and, through cutting-edge research, seek to effect positive social impact.

Many of our journals are interdisciplinary and aim to encourage debate across academic boundaries. Our expansive journals list covers a broad range of social science disciplines, including Business and Management, Economics and Society, Law, Sociology, Politics and International Relations and Social Work.

If you think that your work aligns with our mission, find out more about publishing your journal with us or browse our Journal Author Toolkit for details about writing for our journals.

Global Social Challenges Journal

NON-PROFIT, OPEN ACCESS
PUBLISHING FOR CHANGE

Bristol University Press is delighted to announce its new fully open access journal.

"This brand-new journal aims at engaging the full range of 'social' conditions we confront. I fully support this opening up of a broader domain than has been the usual in the social sciences."

PROFESSOR SASKIA SASSEN, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK, USA

How can we reimagine society in an era of climate change, pandemic, hunger, poverty, questions of racial, ethnic and gender justice and other pressing global societal challenges? Significant threats and dangers lie ahead of us, but so do opportunities, as new ways of being, thinking and doing emerge. This new, fully open access journal aims to facilitate thinking about these positive new trajectories and to become the journal of choice to address the complexities of global social challenges across disciplines, fields and geographies.

It is the first such journal to be based in the social sciences while also engaging with research from humanities, arts and STEM. Including marginalised, minority and indigenous world views, the journal will be an important home for research that contributes to the creation of alternative futures that acknowledge past injustices and are socially and environmentally just and sustaining.

Consumption and Society

Volume 2 | 2023 | 2 issues

Co-Editors: Marlyne Sahakian, University of Geneva, Switzerland, Stefan Wahlen, University of Giessen, Germany and Daniel Welch, University of Manchester, UK

“Consumption is an increasingly important part of contemporary life, contributing to the most urgent problems facing the globe – climate destabilization, inequality, and the failures of capitalism. Scholars’ previous paradigms for understanding consumption are increasingly inadequate, as we grapple with profound changes to how people live. This new journal will be an important outlet for the latest theory and research, and will help us to redefine the field.”

PROFESSOR JULIET SCHOR, BOSTON COLLEGE, US

Consumption and Society publishes articles that advance understandings of consumption as a societal phenomenon, embedded in, and constitutive of, socioeconomic, material and cultural configurations. The field of consumption studies was an early touchstone for major debates on macrosocial change, especially around the issues of globalisation and aestheticisation. Following in this tradition, Consumption and Society aims to revitalise the relevance of consumption studies for the societal challenges of the 21st century. The journal contributes to debates on contested aspects of consumption, such as environmental impacts, digitalisation, the shifting balance of collective versus private consumption, commodification and inequalities.

Consumption and Society is affiliated with the European Sociological Association’s Research Network on Sociology of Consumption (ESARN5) and the Sustainable Consumption Research & Action Initiative (SCORAI) Europe, as well as the British Sociological Association’s Consumption Study Group. A key feature of the journal is to reflect the pluralism of these networks.

Published in association with the European Social Work Research Association

"I am delighted that this new journal is ready to launch and am confident that the editorial team will secure high-quality contributions related to all aspects of social work research in both European and international contexts."

CHRISTOS PANAGIOTOPOULOS, PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOLS OF SOCIAL WORK

European Social Work Research is the flagship journal of the European Social Work Research Association and is dedicated to the development, practice and utilisation of social work research. It is the only Europe-wide journal to focus uniquely on social work research and its intended audience is scholars, students, practitioners, policy makers and other researchers who have an interest in social problems, social work and the contribution that social work makes to just and equitable societies.

"This much-needed innovative, inclusive and interdisciplinary journal fills an important gap in academic journals dedicated to global political economy. I have no doubt that Global Political Economy will make lasting and vital impacts on the debates."

SUSANNE SOEDERBERG, PROFESSOR OF GLOBAL POLITICAL ECONOMY, QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY, CANADA

Global Political Economy is the much-anticipated journal for the discipline of global political economy, with an explicit intention of cross-disciplinarity, spanning international relations, sociology, feminism and gender studies, political science, business studies, science and technology studies, communications, economics, geography and more, encouraging debates and discussions across these arenas.

The journal covers issues that concern people, whether inside the academy or outside of it, looking at the global political economy and its systemic contradictions, constant crises and upheaval. Global Political Economy will bring fresh insights into complex and often unseen modes, forms and operations of global power relations, social forces and historical change.

EUROPEAN GROUP

FOR THE STUDY OF DEVIANCE & SOCIAL CONTROL

"This journal is an essential purchase, and will continue to bridge the gap between academics, practitioners and activists in a way not seen by academic journals."

CRAIG KELLY, BIRMINGHAM CITY UNIVERSITY, UK

Justice, Power and Resistance is an international, peer-reviewed journal promoting critical analysis and connecting theory, politics and activism. Working towards social justice, state accountability and decarceration, the journal is primarily a vehicle to make accessible and advance challenging research and scholarship that can be utilised to critically inform contemporary debates and policies. Originally based within the European Group for the Study of Deviance and Social Control, the journal invites academics, practitioners and activists to think critically about the concepts of justice and power, and what the implications of these are for the lives of people most affected by social harms.

"Brings into focus two subjects that should be studied together. It provides a platform for informed, reflective and rigorously evidenced research and does so in a way that addresses issues that matter."

GERRY STOKER, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHAMPTON, UK AND UNIVERSITY OF CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA

Policy & Politics is a world-leading journal that provides the primary outlet for scholars and reflexive practitioners to engage with the most pressing governance challenges inhibiting the continued advancement in the study of public policy and its practice. These challenges span the globe and link communities in a common struggle to realise and sustain human dignity and quality of life for all.

Policy & Politics serves scholars seeking an outlet that accepts these challenges and strives to overcome them. Three principles guide the journal:

- (1) comprehensive coverage of public policy, politics and social issues;
- (2) inclusivity in research approaches; and
- (3) relevance for science and practice.

Critical and Radical Social Work

Volume 11 | 2023 | 3 issues

SCOPUS CITE SCORE 0.8

Editor in Chief: Michael Lavalette, Liverpool Hope University, UK

Deputy Editors: Dimitra-Dora Teloni, University of West Attica, Greece and Charlotte Williams, Bangor University, UK

"A much-needed outlet for social workers to promote innovative and challenging standpoints. The journal stimulates debate and gives voice to those advocating for groups that are relegated to the margins."

LINDA BRISKMAN, SWINBURNE INSTITUTE FOR SOCIAL RESEARCH, AUSTRALIA

Critical and Radical Social Work is an exciting journal that promotes debate and scholarship around a range of engaged social work themes.

The journal publishes papers which seek to analyse and respond to the latest issues in the field, such as the impact of global neoliberalism on social welfare, austerity and social work, social work and social movements and the ways that social work intersects with inequality and oppression.

It welcomes contributions that consider and question themes relating to the definition of social work and social work professionalism, that look at ways in which organic and 'indigenous' practice can expand concepts of the social work project and that consider alternative and radical histories of social work activity.

As a truly international journal it actively encourages contributions from academics, scholars and practitioners from across the global village.

Emotions and Society

Volume 5 | 2023 | 3 issues

SCOPUS CITESCORE 1.4

Editors-in-Chief: Mary Holmes, University of Edinburgh, UK and Åsa Wettergren, Gothenburg University, Sweden

Co-Editor: Nathan Manning, University of Adelaide, Australia

"A very valuable addition to sociology and the study of society... edited by a highly qualified team it has already attracted groundbreaking articles on the various interactions and relationships between emotions, individuals and their societies."

BENET DAVETIAN, UNIVERSITY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, CANADA

Emotions and Society aims to publish high-quality, original peer-reviewed articles which advance theoretical and empirical understanding of emotions in social life. It is associated with the European Sociological Association (ESA) Research Network on the Sociology of Emotions and seeks submissions from a wide range of international authors writing in this area. The sociology of emotions has developed unique perspectives on emotions that attend to their social construction and the ways in which they are embedded in social structures and inhere in social processes.

The Journal seeks to expand the largely unexhausted potential for developing innovative approaches not only to emotions per se, but to the social generally. All methodological approaches to studying emotions are welcome, but they should demonstrate rigour and be framed in ways that will be of interest to sociologically inclined scholars.

"Gender is everywhere in politics, but gender analysis is not. This much-needed international journal is led by an outstanding group of gender scholars with a range of political specialties and perspectives. This new journal will soon be a must read!"

MYRA MARX FERREE, ALICE H. COOK, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON, USA

The European Journal of Politics and Gender (EJPG) is a peer-reviewed journal that publishes international, cutting-edge research in the broad field of politics and gender. EJPG is endorsed by the Gender and Politics Standing Group of the European Consortium for Political Research (ECPR).

EJPG is firmly embedded in global politics and gender scholarship, and its scope is not limited to Europe. EJPG aims to advance gender and politics research in all its diversity. To this end it publishes articles in the wide field of gender and politics, including a variety of geographical and thematic foci, methods and epistemological traditions.

Founding Editors: Ken Young (1943–2019)
and Annette Boaz, Kingston University, UK

Editors-in-Chief: Zachary Neal, Michigan State University,
US, Caroline Oliver, University College London, UK

“Evidence-based policy is the watchword today in many countries and with many international organizations. This journal is the place to explore its many meanings, how it is operationalized and how it works. A journal worth reading!”

PROFESSOR TOM COOK, NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, USA

Evidence & Policy is the first peer-reviewed journal dedicated to comprehensive and critical assessment of the relationship between researchers and the evidence they produce and the concerns of policy makers and practitioners.

International in scope and interdisciplinary in focus, it addresses the needs of those who develop public policies, provide public services, lay down the research base for evaluation and development across a wide range of social and public policy issues and those who are working to connect these groups, such as knowledge brokers.

It provides cutting-edge research related to criminal justice, employment and welfare, education, environmental protection, finance, health, housing, international development, social care and transport.

As well as more traditional research articles, the journal includes review and method articles, contemporary debate pieces and articles from practice.

Editor at Large: Lynn Jamieson, University of Edinburgh, UK

"This timely journal will provide an essential locus for work on contemporary family relationships. At last there is the space to create a critical mass of work in this important field."

CAROL SMART, UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER, UK

Families, Relationships and Societies is a vibrant social science journal advancing scholarship and debates in the field of families and relationships. It explores family life, relationships and generational issues across the life course.

Bringing together a range of social science perspectives, with a strong policy and practice focus, it is also strongly informed by sociological theory and the latest methodological approaches. The title encompasses the fluidity, complexity and diversity of contemporary social and personal relationships and their need to be understood in the context of different societies and cultures.

Global Discourse:

An interdisciplinary journal of current affairs
Volume 13 | 2023 | 3 issues

SCOPUS CITESCORE 2.6

Editor: Matthew Johnson, Northumbria University, UK

Deputy Editors: Shannon Brincat, University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia and Simon Mabon, Lancaster
University, UK

North American Consultative Editor: Debra L. DeLaet,
Drake University, USA

"In the future the most transformative research and scholarship is likely to occur at the nexus or intersection between traditional disciplines and professional boundaries. Global Discourse is arguably the world-leading journal for provoking debates, connecting scholars and redefining how critical social challenges are framed and understood. It is a journal that is shaping the future rather than being stuck in the past."

MATTHEW FLINDERS IS PROFESSOR OF POLITICS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF SHEFFIELD, UK AND VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE POLITICAL STUDIES ASSOCIATION, UK

Global Discourse is an interdisciplinary, problem-oriented journal of applied contemporary thought operating at the intersection of politics, international relations, sociology and social policy. The Journal's scope is broad, encouraging interrogation of current affairs with regard to core questions of distributive justice, wellbeing, cultural diversity, autonomy, sovereignty, security and recognition.

All issues are themed and aimed at addressing pressing issues as they emerge. Rejecting the notion that publication is the final stage in the research process, Global Discourse seeks to foster discussion and debate between often artificially isolated disciplines and paradigms, with responses to articles encouraged and conversations continued across issues.

"The multidisciplinary approach of the Journal will not only provide a scholarly illumination of the complexity of the issue, but also offers a place for transforming knowledge into innovative responses."

PATRICK O'LEARY, GRIFFITH UNIVERSITY, AUSTRALIA

The Journal of Gender-Based Violence is the first international journal based in Europe to showcase the work of scholars across disciplinary and topic boundaries, and from a range of methodologies.

The journal acknowledges both the breadth of gender-based violence (GBV) and its links to gendered inequalities. It aims to continue to document the voices and experiences of victims and survivors of GBV, to publish work regarding those who perpetrate GBV and to uncover the varied and complex social structures, inequalities and gender norms through which GBV is produced and sustained.

The journal recognises the intersection of gender with other identities and power relations, such as ethnicity, nationality, sexuality, faith, disability and economic status.

The Journal of Gender-Based Violence is published by Policy Press on behalf of the Centre for Gender and Violence Research at the University of Bristol.

Journal of Poverty and Social Justice

Volume 31 | 2023 | 3 issues

Impact Factor: 0.884

Co-Editors: Joanna Mack, The Open University, UK and Marco Pomati, Cardiff University, UK

"The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice is clearly one of the best in the field, as I learned in preparing for my visit to the UK as UN Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights."

PHILIP ALSTON, FORMER UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON EXTREME POVERTY AND HUMAN RIGHTS, NYU LAW SCHOOL, USA

The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice provides an internationally unique forum for leading research on the themes of poverty and social justice.

Focusing on poverty and social exclusion, the journal explores links with social security (including pensions and tax credits), employment, area regeneration, housing, health, education and criminal justice, ethnicity, gender, disability and other social inequalities as they relate to social justice.

The journal encompasses an original and exciting mix of scholarly research articles and lively policy and practice-oriented discussions of topical questions.

Interdisciplinary and international in scope, the journal is essential reading for academics, students, policy makers and practitioners interested in poverty, social security, welfare and justice.

The Journal of Poverty and Social Justice welcomes submissions from those working in these areas across the globe. All research articles are peer-reviewed.

Regional Editors: Matthew H. Bowker, Medaille College, USA and Steffen Krueger, University of Oslo, Norway

Published in association with The Association for Psychosocial Studies

"A much-needed place to animate and inspire others in the field of psychosocial research and writing – a plenum of innovative ideas about clinical and critical theory, contemporary hermeneutics, and social philosophy."

CLAUDE BARBRE, CHICAGO SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL PSYCHOLOGY, USA

The Journal of Psychosocial Studies publishes work that falls within the broad transdisciplinary area of Psychosocial Studies, defined by a commitment to understanding the significance of the links between internal and external worlds. Psychosocial Studies draws on a range of disciplines to explore the interactive relationships between self, culture and society.

As the adopted journal of The Association for Psychosocial Studies (APS), it especially seeks to promote work that is interdisciplinary and considers issues of practice. The Journal of Psychosocial Studies provides space for research and writing that crosses the traditional boundaries between disciplines in the social sciences, humanities and the arts.

Editor in Chief: Emma Galli, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

Editor: Giampaolo Garzarelli, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy, IPEG University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa

Advisory Editor: Stefano da Empoli, Roma Tre University, Italy

“New technology and dynamic editorial talent, mark both the return of the Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice and a significant milestone in the history of transoceanic cooperation between scholars of Public Finance and Public Choice.”

J.R. CLARK, THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE AT CHATTANOOGA, USA

The Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice (JPFPC) was founded in 1983 by Professor Domenico da Empoli in the spirit of the Italian discipline of Scienza delle finanze. According to this approach, economic analysis should include individual motivations in non-market settings, political institutions and collective decision making.

Relaunched in 2018 in partnership with Bristol University Press, JPFPC is unique in the international landscape of public economics journals because it is committed to explicitly advancing knowledge in both public finance and public choice, reflecting an inclusive approach.

Society for Longitudinal and Lifecourse Studies (SLLS)

“Longitudinal and Life Course Studies provides a much-needed outlet for high-quality interdisciplinary research on the life course. No other journal offers life course researchers as wide a range of disciplines, topics, and methods.”

MARY CLARE LENNON, CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, USA

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the needs of researchers studying the life course and using longitudinal methods at the interfaces of social, developmental and health sciences. It fosters cross-disciplinary and international endeavours and promotes the creation and exploitation of longitudinal data resources as well as their application to policy issues.

As the journal of the Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (SLLS), it provides an opportunity for scholars at all stages of their careers to publish work crossing disciplinary boundaries which is often beyond the scope of more conventional, single-field journals.

"Amid the resurgence of interest in work and labour around the world, this new journal, with its impressive editorial team, is a promising addition to the field."

RUTH MILKMAN CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK GRADUATE CENTER, USA

Work in the Global Economy is an interdisciplinary peer-reviewed journal that promotes understanding of work, and connections to work, in all forms and dimensions. This can mean a focus on labour processes, labour markets, labour organising and labour reproduction.

The Editors welcome wide-ranging contributions that extend and deepen connections between all aspects of the division of labour: from the production networks that underpin the global economy, to the gendered and racial divides that shape how work is allocated and organised.

Read and Publish Agreements

We are pleased to announce the launch of our new 2022/23 Journals Read and Publish initiative (in collaboration with Jisc), developed as part of our ongoing commitment to supporting our communities in breaking down boundaries to participation in, and access to, truly global social science research.

For one flat annual fee, the new agreement will provide UK universities with access to our full collection (19 titles) enabling authors at those participating institutions to publish their original research Open Access (with no APC fees to pay at the point of use) in any of our subscription or hybrid journals.

Other Transitional Agreements

We are happy to offer Read and Publish and other Transitional Agreements to institutions and consortia that are not eligible for the Jisc agreement.

If you would like to discuss a Read and Publish Agreement or Transitional Agreement for your organisation, please contact Simon Bell at simon.bell@bristol.ac.uk.

Open Access options

We offer a range of Green and Gold Open Access options for our journals and books.

Digital Book Collections

Policy Press Scholarship Online

“What a wonderful resource! Nice layout and ready access to chapters and descriptions. So many tempting books to purchase or access via library subscription.”

ROS BURNETT, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD, UK

Policy Press Scholarship Online (PPSO) is our digital monograph collection, published in partnership with Oxford University Press. The collection provides access to over 600 scholarly titles in a variety of subject areas, including Sociology, Law, Criminology, Business and Management, Politics and International Relations, Social Work, Public Health and Epidemiology. This collection of high-quality academic monographs is an essential research resource for students and academics alike.

PPSO streamlines the research process by making disparately published scholarship easily accessible, highly discoverable and fully cross-searchable via one online platform. PPSO greatly enhances the ability for Policy Press’s scholarly publishing to be found and used by academics globally.

Benefits for academics, researchers and libraries:

- Filter results to view your subject specialisations
- Save time with at-a-glance keywords and abstracts
- Quickly build bibliographies with automatic export citations
- Save links to favourite books, chapters and searches
- Use and share content in multiple formats
- Readable, functional and easy to use
